

"Cause and Effect" is the 18th episode of the fifth season of the American science fiction television series Star Trek: The Next Generation, the 118th overall. The episode features the USS Enterprise-D on a mission to investigate a mysterious phenomenon in the Beta Quadrant. The ship encounters a planet with a complex and dangerous environment, where the crew must work together to survive and uncover the truth behind the phenomenon. The episode is known for its high production values and the excellent acting of the cast, particularly the character of William B. Riker, played by Jonathan Frakes. The episode is a classic example of the show's ability to blend science fiction with compelling storytelling.
